What is a Call Number?

Library materials are classified using the Library of Congress Classification (LCC). This system divides all knowledge into twenty-one basic classes, which are identified by letters of the alphabet. Specific topics are further categorized with a combination of letters and numbers.

To receive assistance with locating a call number, please visit the library circulation desk.